Personality Traits

Strength

At the time of your birth the rising zodiac on eastern horizon was Aries. Hence your ascendant is Aries. This sign governs your character and your personality. Element of this zodiac is fire hence; there is an electrifying effect in your personality. You are impulsive and passionate. Mars, the commander-in-chief of the planetary Kingdom, rules your ascendant. So you naturally possess strength, courage, initiation abilities and a strong force. You believe in attack and win. You are bold and love to accept challenges. You are commanding and confident and prove best in organizing talent and execution. Aries is a movable sign rendering you love for journeys. You love to be independent and hate to be governed. You are straightforward in your speech and cannot distort the facts. Aries is a male sign so all the masculine features are prominent in your behavior especially aggressiveness.

Weakness

Ram is the symbol of your sign. You are least bothered about the consequences of the ventures you put your hands in, for you there is no space for back outs. Your ambitions are high and you set high targets for you, what you lack is patience. You cannot wait for long and hence in speed work you very often omit important facts during the execution of your job. Sometimes you respond with out preparations resulting into failure of your killers' instinct. You must learn to cultivate patience for better harmony in your relations. Your expression power also needs some softness and refinement. You believe on your own endeavors and efforts than anyone in the world.

You have to be always cautions to find positive outlets for your enthusiasm and exploding energy Meditation is very much needed to develop patience and to check the straightforward statements you give. You have to inculcate the habit of giving a second thought before you consent for anything. Although you are strong and bossy yet at the core of your heart you are emotional and your emotional decisions often prove to be wrong. Don't let ego come in between your personal relations. Astrologically we advice you to include music, dance, painting or any other form of art in your daily routine. This can prove to be the best outlet to your energy.

Working Style

Your Ascendant lord is Mars, the commander in chief of planets. Mars is the significator of stamina, courage, valor, controversies and leadership abilities. Being the lord of first house in your horoscope, Mars also governs the subjects of first house i.e. your personality, temperament, attitude towards life and physical ability. In your natal chart first lord Mars is situated in the first house, which is his own house. You are enterprising with a confident and daring personality. Mars in his own sign in your horoscope makes you bold, enthusiastic, energetic, and adventurous. You have a very positive view towards life. You are self made .You would get success in the areas near your native place. You have an interest in adventurous sports. You have the guts to take initiatives. Mars bestows on you a strong will power, courage and self-assurance. You believe in action than thinking and making plans. Your decisive & forceful attitude sometimes turns to hasty decisions having mistakes with in.

You are blessed with keen sense of judgments, leadership qualities. You have your own ideas to act upon & don't like other's suggestions. You have strong likes and dislikes. You possess wit & wealth. You are a good organizer & manager. You have a desire for sensual pleasures. You should avoid rash driving. With the impulsive energy of Mars you sometimes burst out with anger without looking into the consequences. In your passion you go for hard physical labor and suffer fatigue or other physical ailments. You need to check your temperamental shoot ups. You can have gains from the government.

Mars is posited 1st in your natal chart, which blesses you with tireless energy and courage. You are quite disciplined personality & acquire success through your own brave and strong efforts. You may be of authoritative attitude. This attitude makes you unkind towards people occasionally. You may become impatient at times.

You have to accept the fact that everybody is not blessed with the same level of energy and enthusiasm. You have to understand and honor other's limitations. Your strong will power can help you do this. When you understand other's limitations, you curb down the expectations, which can help you manage stress upto a great extent.

Attitude

Your Moon sign is Leo as at the time of your birth Moon was transiting in zodiac sign Leo. Leo is a fire sign, which is lively and royal. Moon here in the house of friend is happy. You are fond of adventure and have strong risk taking abilities. Strong determination and will power is your real wealth. You are highly ambitious and often combine your strong determination and daring approach to get big success. This determination sometimes turns to an obstinate attitude where you deny to even listen to any body. Stability of your thoughts and actions establish you as a reliable person. You need to be careful regarding your digestive system as occasional stomach disorders may trouble you. You possess a good duty sense, which motivates you for consistent efforts. You are a keen observer and quiet sharp in reactions. You are very decisive and usually come up with right decision at right time. You usually don't prefer to go for second opinion and take decision on your own. The aristocracy of your nature also makes you generous. You help others with a desire to be acknowledged and thanked. You achieve what you want to but after a lot of obstacles and hurdles.

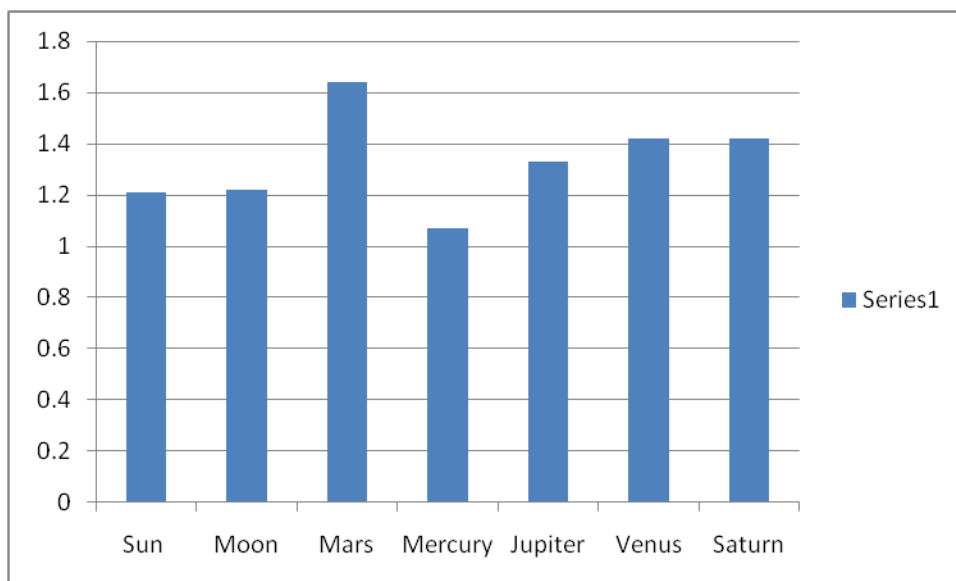

It is very interesting that your ascendant, moon sign and birth star are categorized as the royal ones and of the ruling class. This has an impact on your behavior and you want to lead and not to be led. Although it is very difficult to change the basic nature as bestowed by the planets yet efforts can bring good results. Instead of being bossy and giving orders try to get works done by motivating others.

At the time of your birth Moon was transiting in constellation Magha hence your birth star is Magha. Magha means the mighty one. The symbol justifies this meaning i.e. a palanquin (Palki) the royal seat. Hence, power, honor, status, royalty are the subjects deeply associated with you. Your birth star has a combined effect of Sun and Ketu. You are impulsive, ambitious, a born leader and an arrogant personality. To define you, one word is sufficient i.e. 'Achiever.' You are authoritative and usually don't go against your will. The only fear in this demand of power is that you can sometimes be very arrogant and merciless. Your approach towards life is very different. You are concerned more of your social status than materialistic gains. You not only demand authority but also show complete responsibility. You have the guts to stand against the authority if you find injustice. You don't hesitate to revolt irrespective of the consequences. There is swiftness in your actions. You are highly idealistic and have your own code of conduct. Hence, you are a spiritualistic soul. The royalty of your behaviour is often taken as introvert nature. 'I' is very prominent in you. The deity of your birth star are Pitris, the great fathers or ancestors. You have ancestral inheritance pride. You have a great respect for your traditions and you follow them religiously.

The negative traits of your personality are associated with the hunger of power you have. The superiority complex of yours sometimes keeps you socially aloof.

Strong Domain of Personality

You are a born leader who knows only extremes, of both good and bad. Your self-confidence is high and you believe only in your own endeavors.

All the planets in your horoscope are above average. This is an indication that with small efforts you can be a multifaceted personality. You have to win over the temperamental fluctuations to let your best come outside. The planetary strength of Mercury is less as compared to other planets. Mercury governs the sense of humor. Company of someone with a very good sense of humor can help you explore an absolutely new person inside you. Play truants out of your set time table sometimes and enjoy all that you hesitate to do.

Analysis of the sixth house of the horoscope

Sixth House in a horoscope represents diseases, enemies' debts, obstacles and competitive spirit.

The zodiac sign in the 6th house of your horoscope is Virgo. This indicates that you are moody and often fall in arguments. Due to your hasty approach you often initiate your fight lacking proper facts. It is difficult for you to accept defeat and this combines to increase your stress.

In your natal chart 6th lord is posited in second house. Sixth lord represents diseases, enemies' debts, obstacles and competitive spirit. Second house is the house of family, speech, vision and financial prosperity. You may come across some vision or speech problems. You need to be more cautious regarding your opponents as loss of money due to them is expected. You may have to thrive for the moral support of your family.
